GIRL 'TOO PRETTY' ENDS LIFE

Mother Suicide At Same Place 14 Years Ago

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—(U.P.)—Police tonight stated that they have positive identification that the blonde girl who leaped overboard from a Southern Pacific ferry Tuesday night was Gertrude Davis, 19, of Berkeley.

Fourteen years ago the girl's mother took her life in the same manner on the same spot.

Police attribute the suicide to the fact that the girl found herself "too pretty to work" and a family quarrel.

The identification was brought forth in a novel manner. Client Woodside, a neighbor of the dead girl, heard her cry as she leaped from the boat. He recognized her voice and immediately started a search through the boat for her. A trip to Miss Davis' home found that she was missing.

Her grandmother, Mrs. Teresa Hughes, declared today that she and Gertrude had had a quarrel several weeks ago and that the girl had left home, saying: "You'll be sorry for this. Mother found a way out. Maybe that's the way for me."

Red Grange Father Of Baby Girl Says

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—UP—Harold "Red" Grange, former Illinois gridiron star, was charged in a warrant issued today by Helen Flogek, 22, with being the father of her 7-months old baby.

The warrant was issued by Judge William Fetter.

Grange issued a statement to the United Press tonight, denying the charges and saying that it was an attempt to "blackmail him into paying money."

Grange appeared at the detective bureau after the warrant was issued, and furnished $1,500 bond for his appearance.

Attorneys who appeared with Miss Flogek told Judge Fetter that their client would be willing to settle for "what the law allows." Under the law, the girl would receive approximately $1,150.

The former gridiron star, noted for his sensational runs during his college career and later on professional fields, is playing in a Chicago theatre in a show called "Come On, Red."

Yankee Doodle On Flight Across U.S.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, L. I. Oct. 24.—UP—A trim, white monoplane roared down the famous Roosevelt field runway late today, lifted slowly, headed into the west, and the third trans-continental non-stop attempt of the Lockheed Vega, "Yankee Doodle" was under way.

The famous plane which now holds the record for ocean to ocean flight, started at 4:15 p. m. Only a few seconds after it left the ground it had disappeared, flying low, over the hangars of Curtiss field.

In the pilot's seat sat Capt. C. B. D. Collier, joint holder of the round-the-world speed record, and Harry Tucker, passenger on both the previous trans-American flights of the plane occupied the second seat.

Arf Gobel piloted the plane on his previous attempts, the first of which, from San Diego to New York, was successful.

Ford, Chevrolet Gird For Battle

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—UP—Behind a gradual slowing up in automobile production for the usual seasonal changes, there was noticeable today an unusual degree of activity among the two largest lower priced car manufacturers who are drawing their lines closely for a titanic battle which promises to begin on January first.

There was every indication that Ford would modify one and probably three of his present models by adding customs deluxe bodies, increasing the range of his attraction and the price possibly to the $1000 maximum line.

This move was seen as an offset to the expected action of Chevrolet in introducing its new model, probably a six cylinder car.

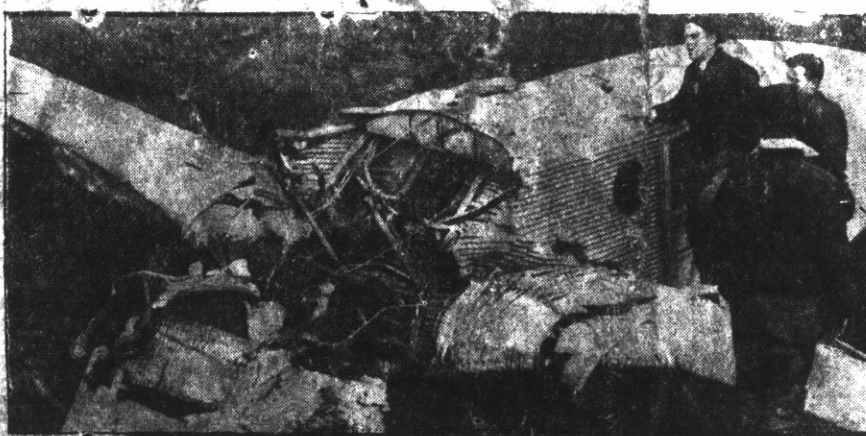

After a survey of the second hand market, General Motors officials are understood to have agreed almost unanimously that the big day of the four cylinder car has gone.

A study of the General Motors statement of earnings for the first nine months is scheduled to be released after the market closes tomorrow. Officials have indicated their plans for 1929 are in increase production from 15 to 20 percent, subject to any changes which may develop later.

SUFFERING mental and physical tortures, Pilot George King was unable to give any cause for crash of his plane at Atlantic City in which one banker was killed and five others were injured. None of his passengers touched controls, King insisted, although W. O. Chanute, who was killed, was in the cockpit.

Actual instruction in aviation is coupled with humor and (sometimes) the everthrilling drama of flight in the clouds. Skylark himself is a boy but his experiences are for both children and grownups.

Three Hurt When Fence Breaks In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—UP—Three persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, when a heavy section of fence in front of a building construction job in front of 971 Market street collapsed and fell upon the passing throng.

The injured: Mrs. Lillian Kerr, 236 Sixth street, fractured skull; Sam Karos, 1330 Thomas street, fractured shoulders, cuts and bruises; Mrs. E. L. Fairchild 1040 Page street, injured ankle and cuts and bruises.

According to J. L. Anderson in charge of construction, the fence, which was about 40 feet long and eight feet high, was being removed from in front of the building when it suddenly fell.

Appearances Wrong Here

CROCKETT, Oct. 24.—After a night's lodging in the city jail, Leonora Gray, 27, a restaurant manager, was freed today of a petty larceny charge by Justice of the Peace Ray Standish.

Miss Gray was arrested on the charges of Bessie Greenberg, a waiter, who declared that he had seen her take $35 from the cash till. Miss Gray declared that the money was her salary and she had been told to take the money by G. W. Simmons, owner of the restaurant.

Officials checked her story and an attack of influenza in his home in Berkeley.

SECOND BOY HELD IN THEFTS

Richard Dunn of Richmond, alleged accomplice of David Phillips in a series of crimes, was arrested by Lieut. Edward Brock and Patrolman J. T. Brown of the Oakland police in Idora park Tuesday night. He is being held in the Oakland jail.

Phillips shortly after his arrest confessed to a series of crimes, according to Chief of Police Dan Cox, and named Dunn as his "pal." Police of the Bay district have been searching for him. He was recognized by the Oakland police on a description said to have been furnished by Phillips.

The Oakland authorities suspect him of a grand theft charge and in the event that he escapes this charge, he will be turned over to the Richmond police.

Among other crimes, Dunn is suspected of stealing the car of F. P. Marshall, Richmond restaurant operator, and the burglary of the Fourth street garage, in company with Phillips.

Phillips who admitted these charges to the police has been held to answer in the superior court and is awaiting trial on the felony charges.

A series of 32 crimes within a month are said by the police to have been admitted by Phillips, naming Dunn as his accomplice in each. Burglary of three school houses and the Builders Exchange in Richmond are among the crimes said to be listed in the confession.

Phillips also admitted burglaries in Turlock, Modesto, Ukiah and other inland cities, according to the police confession.

SEVERAL HURT AT SMITH TALK

ARENA, BOSTON, Oct. 4.—UP—Windows were smashed, a dozen women fainted and several men suffered cuts and bruises in the mob which besieged the arena three hours before Gov. Smith was scheduled to speak here tonight.

The crowds rushed the barred glass doors and windows trying to get inside but the hall was jammed to 13,000 capacity at six p. m.

Police threw a cordon for two blocks around the arena and refused to let anyone pass after dark.

Several newspapermen traveling on Smith's special train were unable to get through the throngs and the endless lines of police. They were forced to return to the hotel and "cover" the speech for their papers by hearing it over the radio.

Detective Admits Part In Kidnaping

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 4.—UP—Harvey L. Smith, private detective, admitted to police today he had been hired to take from the city, Mrs. Genevieve Stults, who recently was beaten to death and the body buried in a lime pit near Elkhart, Ind.

Smith said, however, he did not carry out the orders but turned the job over to two strangers, Charles L. Rhyder and his wife, who have been held in connection with the murder, made the proposition to him, Smith said in a statement to police.

Rhyder, police said, had been carrying on a love affair with Mrs. Stults, a beauty parlor owner. Smith said Mrs. Rhyder wanted to break up the love affair and that Rhyder also asked to have the woman taken away for a few days so Rhyder could obtain "some letters from Mrs. Stults' apartment."

Zeppelin Ready For Nation Flight

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 24.—UP—Fueled and ready for his trip over the central United States, the giant Graf Zeppelin rested in the hangar here this evening awaiting the abatement of cross winds blowing over the naval air field.

The wind made it virtually impossible for the trans-Atlantic dirigible to leave its hangar and it was announced that a start would not be attempted before 10 p. m., at the earliest.

Until that time members of the "ground crew" whose duty it will be to remove the ship from shelter and start it on its way, will sleep. The shrill scream of a siren will call them to their posts when officials here deem it advisable to start the flight.

THAT SNAKE SCOTCHED

The reason that Herbert Hoover, after following his profession as a mining engineer with success enough to permit him to retire and have enough to live very comfortably sold his shares in the world-wide mining enterprise that had its main office in London, was that he had never lost sight of the prerogative of every self-respecting American boy and man—the right to run for president.

As early as 1914 in London, when he sold his interests in the mining company to William J. Loring, now developing a mine near Kirkland, Mr. Hoover silenced the querulous inquiries of his London associates over his quitting the firm with the calm statement that he was returning to his own land and that he hoped in due time to be president.

Because he did not go into the widest mining field in the world and made money which he brought back to the United States, and because his busy career kept him for years out of America, Mr. Hoover has been made the object of a slanderous whispering campaign—paid for by the democrats—that he once applied for naturalization in Great Britain. This campaign has been the rounds in the mouths of unthinking people who have lent themselves to the purposes of the villifiers. We have been told by very good friends that Hoover might be all right, but he was a "damned Britisher."

When the matter was brought into the open the government of the United States had an answer ready and that answer was transmitted through the republican chairman, Dr. Work. It was as complete and crushing a blow to the worst phase of the Smith whispering campaign that could have been delivered. It forever gave the lie to the democratic propagandists. It is too much to expect that it will percolate through the dense intelligences of all the small people who have passed the lie around and who believe it themselves. But whatever the outcome of the election—and that seems now to be truly assured—it can never be said that Herbert Hoover would not have been removed by law from his candidacy if the democrats had been able to find an iota of truth in the charges that he had voted in South Africa.

"THE LEAST OF THESE"

Herbert Hoover's appeal to popular imagination is doing more to assure his election than the efforts of any group or organization, political or otherwise. Men and women consider him properly fitted for the presidency of the United States because he has done big things in the way they like to see big things handled. His political identity means all the republican organization and its years of service can contribute towards his support, but that Herbert Hoover is himself is what is making votes for him by the million.

Herbert Hoover has the confidence of the people since he is not a type of candidate who must say what he will do if elected. In contrast, he is of the type who can point to what he has already done as a reason for accepting the nomination. With him it is past performance, duty done, not pledges and promises. Welfare work, relieving the oppressed, which he has been doing for years, not his political identity, won a home for him in the human heart. Under our form of government, which is the world's best, we must have political organizations, but Herbert Hoover is among those upon whom an organization can lean, rather than a candidate who must lean upon the organization.

Loud speakers will be placed in the Prussian parliament to drown out the noise of the communist orators. A better way to subdue them would be to threaten each one of them with work.

BEAUTY

In a letter printed in this column yesterday, "Distressed" asked me how to keep her hair from becoming brittle and dry and her scalp free from dandruff. I want to answer that question more fully here than I had space for yesterday.

Brushing is essential to the health of the hair and at least ten minutes should be spent doing it every day. It is taken for granted, of course, that your brush is always kept scrupulously clean.

"Distressed" said that she had to shampoo her hair once a week to keep it free from dandruff and I recommended a hot oil shampoo once every two weeks both to prevent hair from becoming dry and lustreless and to eliminate the dandruff.

Equal parts of olive oil and white mineral oil used as hot as possible should be massaged carefully into the scalp about an hour before you intend to shampoo your hair. Then wrap a hot towel around the head and leave it on until you are ready to wash it. You should shampoo with soft water (a little borax will soften hard water) and a pure liquid soap and be sure to rinse thoroughly.

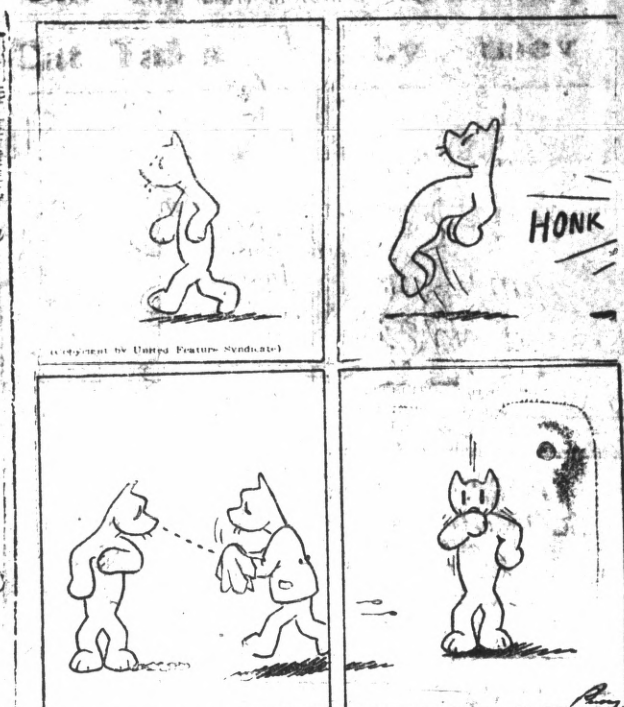

Shampooing your hair every seven days is inclined to keep it dry and you should make an effort to wait longer between washings.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

Jannings and Lubitsch together again. Their first production
since "Passion." A masterful characterization of the mad monarch, Paul of Russia.

CZAR'S SPECIAL FRIEND WAS EXPENSIVE

She dissolved beautiful pearls
in wine—pearls worth fortunes—
just for the fun of the thing.

She threw handfuls of rubies
into the deep snow outside her palace in St. Petersburg—because they looked like drops of blood.

Into the depths of a summer
lawn, she sowed emeralds the czar had given her—laughing as peasants searched frenziedly for the precious stones.

At her table she watched, with eyes that glowed like golden fire
as guests drained poisoned wine
from onyx goblets and writhed
as the fluid gnawed their vitals.

Who was she? She was Mila Lapoukhine, beautiful and dancin-gous, the favorite of the mighty czar Paul the First, a character
of history which Vera Voronina, Russian actress plays in Emil Jan-nings' latest starring picture "The Patriot" which Ernest Lubitsch directed for Paramount and which is showing at the California theatre for the last time today.

Lovely and deadly ornament of a court filled with beauty and terror, Mila, Lapoukhine is only one of an amazing array of characters who come to life again in this great drama of the Russian court a century ago. With Emil Jannings and Ernest Lubitsch, master player and master director,
working together, "The Patriot" belongs to the screen a story of such power, beauty and drama that it is hailed as one of the great milestones in motion picture production.

Tomorrow Ken Maynard in the
"Glorious Trails" and "Our Gang Comedy."

'Service' Topic Of Address At Y. M. D. Session

"Service" was the topic of an address delivered before members of the Richmond Y. M. D. last night in the "Y" building by Guy Smith. The talk was a part of the program presented during the dinner meeting.

Grace Craven entertained with piano solos and Miss Craven and Smith sang several duets.

The members for the first time in the church were in charge of the dinner. Clayton D'Arcy was chairman of the committee in charge.

RECORD HERALD

THE SINGING FOOL, starring Al Jolson, is a Warner Bros. picture
tion of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Al Jolson, singing, waiter at Jackie Joe's New York night club, loved by Grace Farrell, the lighting girl, but he doesn't know it.
He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and wins fame as a composer of popular songs. When they are in Junior, is about two years old, Molly elopes with John Perry, his best friend. She and Perry steal the child Al adores and sail to France. Al, broken by the loss, suffers a nervous breakdown. Months later he drifts into Blackie's place at night, where Grace Farrell, who still loves him, shames him into his promise to stage a comeback
they leave the club together shortly after dawn, but as they reach
he street Al staggers.

Al sat down and relaxed, his eyes half closed. The autumn morning sunlight slanted down
from between two skyscrapers, spreading fan-shape across the level expanse and lighting the white arch. Italian stum children played on the south side, while in the northern part of the square
the children of the rich toddled about, under the watchful eyes of nurses.

"You say you live near here?"
Al asked finally.

"Yes, just around the corner on Waverly Place. I have a room."

"Oh yes?" Some hint of Grace's rather bleak and lonely life was borne home to Al in that one sentence—"I have a room."

Al looked at the other girls in the metropolis, she had no
real home, no family, nothing much but dreams. Yet she lived bravely and without murmuring, thought Al, while he. The sentence remained unfinished.

He rose. "Grace, you're the most wonderful girl in the world."
He knew it—at last. We'll talk a great deal about that later. But now you must go home and get some sleep. I'll go my way and—I'll see you tonight, Blackie."

Grace stood before him, eyes closing. "Thank you, Al," she whispered.

She felt her hand seized. Suddenly he leaned over and kissed her cheek.

"Bye, little one, it's I who should do the thanking."

He saw her tonight, and if clothes can make a difference, you'll see a different person. You just won't know Al Stone in his glad garments. And listen: you see that hotel over there—the white one?"

"That will be my address tomorrow. Then we'll be near each other and I can walk home with you every morning from Blackie's place. Tell Blackie I'm coming over to see you with his show."

Al was smiling now, with Grace staring after him, and when he reached the edge of the square he turned to wave good-bye to the intent little figure. For a moment Grace waited after he had disappeared, then she turned the corner
she was toward her own home. Passers-by who saw her face knew that one girl had found happiness.

Al had over-estimated his strength in keeping up that rapid pace. Now she was almost leading, he sat down on the side of the bed, verging on physical collapse.
The room's dimness and the feeling communicated of the life he had been leading brought a sudden wave of depression. But he fought it off, rose and began pacing up and down.

"I won't be licked," he told himself sharply. "Throw that little girl down after all she's done for me—now!"

He quickly opened a wooden drawer, took out an old sock and drew forth a roll of bills. The bills were quickly stuffed into his coat pocket, then he ran from the room as if escaping from a posse
of policemen.

An hour later he entered a men's haberdashery. He was shaved and his hair was trimmed. A clerk looked at him suspiciously, but finally deigned to approach.

"I want some clothes. Shirts, ties, socks, shoes, suits—the whole thing."

"Yes?" The clerk's nose rose a trifle higher.

"It's all right," said Al, and added simply, "I have the money."
When he drew out his roll of bills
the clerk's eyes bulged.

"I want the best you've got—
and suppose we start on a blue serge suit. I always liked blue serge. Then I want some tweeds and some evening clothes."

The clerk saw a big commission
ahead and stepped lively to supply Al's wants. But he couldn't help wondering if this bun had stolen
the money or if some rich relative had suddenly died and left him a fortune. As they went from counter to counter Al's sense of shame
at his rundown appearance left him; he even began to take a keen delight in the wonder he excited among the clerks and the other customers.

Grace had gone home to sleep
as Al suggested. It was sleep broken by rosy dreams, during which she seemed to be floating gently under a clear blue sky.
When she awoke it was afternoon.
Soon she was hurrying toward Blackie's club.

Now it was well on to ward midnight and Al had not appeared. Grace bent over her accounts and checked the waiters' accounts. She passed by her. Was Al going to fall here? Would he come tomorrow? Would he be any more weak to come back, after all her efforts? She drove the thought resolutely from her

GEORGE NORRIS TURNS TO SMITH

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 24—(U.P.)—Unqualified endorsement of the candidacy of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee, was made here today by Senator George Norris, republican, Nebraska, in an interview with the United Press.

Senator Norris arrived in Portland Wednesday morning from Seattle and while waiting at the union station between trains, he was asked by the United Press to confirm a statement by Frederick C. Howe, executive secretary of the progressive league that he (Norris) would endorse the New York governor's candidacy.

Radio Speech

"Yes, I am for Smith," Senator Norris said. "I favor his candidacy over that of Herbert Hoover. I guess that's about all there is to it. I'll speak over a radio hookup at Omaha Saturday night when I'll go into detail and explain my views."

"How any person who is progressive can support Hoover, is beyond me," Norris said.

"On both the farm problem and water power issues he has demonstrated that he is anything but progressive. In his New York address he termed advocates of government water power development socialists."

"Well, right here, you have an example of one of the crimes of present water power policies—this tremendous undeveloped potential water power of your great Columbia river."

Power Stand

"Hoover stands for private monopoly. It has been the Coolidge policy to stand for private monopoly to follow Coolidge. No monopoly of power. It is the Hoover policy to follow Hoover on that issue."

Senator Norris was emphatic in his repudiation of Hoover's attitude on farm relief.

"There are thousands and thousands of people throughout the middle west who believe that the McNary-Haugen bill is the savior of agriculture," he said. "How many of them can stand for Hoover after his statements on that question? I cannot understand. Smith stands right on it. Hoover stands wrong. I have not had a closed mine on the question of farm relief legislation. I am willing to work for the best solution that can be devised."

Prohibition Issue

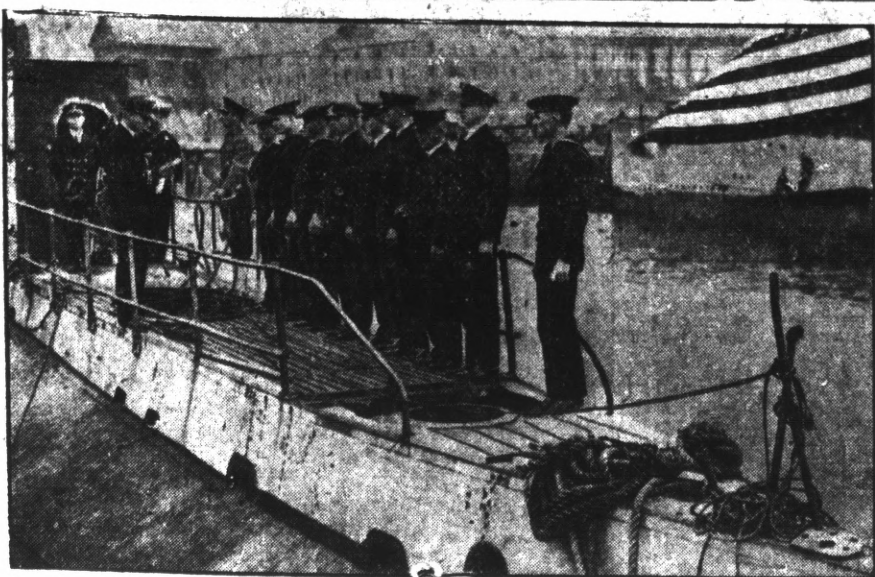

Turning to prohibition, Senator Norris referred to the administration prohibition policy as an "unholy mockery."

"I am not in accord with Governor Smith on the prohibition question," Norris said. "I am a prohibitionist. I believe in prohibition. I do not believe, however, in the unholy mockery of alleged enforcement that has been given the nation in the past seven years."

"I am in accord with Governor Smith's pledge because it is my honest belief that a repeal of the eighteenth amendment would be no worse than the hollow mockery of prohibition enforcement as we have had it up to now."

the use of every line and every industry throughout the nation.

that is the major issue in this campaign. Governor Smith stands right on that. Herbert Hoover stands 100 percent wrong. How any progressive in the United States can support him now after his Madison Square address in which he slapped every progressive mined man and woman in America in the face—my God! I cannot conceive it," Norris said.

"This is an age of electricity.

No modern home can be without its many appliances for the elimination of drudgery and be modern.

No home but the homes of the rich can afford its full use and convenience at the prices charged

by private monopoly.

"It is a natural resource. Roosevelt was the father of the doctrine of the conservation of the natural resources of this nation. It is a peculiar incident of the development of electrical energy that it can not be effectively developed except by monopoly. That is why the nation, or the governmental units, must control and direct it

if it is to be given to the public and to industry at a cost where they may use and enjoy it to the fullest extent."

JUST A SLIGHT MISTAKE SAYS MINISTER

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 24—(U.P.)—

Eliel Lofgren, Sweden's minister of foreign affairs, has a reputation for absent mindedness and a new incident to illustrate his failing was brought out in the recent electoral campaign.

When holding the post of minister of justice in a previous

Swedish cabinet, he was commissioned to bestow a decoration upon a contractor of a small city in southern Sweden. At a formal dinner Lofgren made a speech and at the end presented the guest of honor with a small leather case.

The recipient opened it but hurriedly closed the lid and put the box in his pocket, thereby earning the esteem of his fellow guests

as an extremely modest man.

The next morning, when the cabinet member started his shave

he was surprised to find instead of a razor in his shaving kit, a bright and shining star of gold and enamel which he thought he had presented to the contractor

the night before.

Sponsor Of Bill Escapes Penalty

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 24—UP

—State Senator William B.

Hardin of Mississippi has es-

aped the consequence of a bill

he fostered. At the last legislative session he introduced a bill

seeking to place a $10 tax on all single men, "of age," in the state.

If the bill had passed and all bachelors had resorted to the same refuge as did Senator Hardin the state would have collected a revenue of no dollars and no cents

net.

Sweden To Build

Tallest Smokestack

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 24—The tallest smoke stack in Europe is now being constructed for the Skelleftea Mining company at Roenskaer, in northern Sweden.

When completed, the stack will rise 476 feet above the ground.

The outside top diameter will be

17 feet and the outside base diameter, 36 feet. The whole structure will weigh some 6,500 tons,

and cost $107,200.

The presence of poisonous sulphur fumes necessitates a smoke

stack of these dimensions in order to carry the gases safely over the surrounding community.

Motor trucks are pushing the burro off the roads of Peru.

Produce which used to take three days to get to market is being brought to Lima by truck

within a few hours, and this is only one of many contrasts between old and new in a country which is fast being modernized.

Minister Acts As Mason In Summer

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 24.—(U.P.)—Dr. Thomas Murray, Denver's preaching bricklayer, finds that "building foundations for houses has its place just as building foundations for the soul."

He brought his parents to the comforts of America in 1911, one year after his arrival here, and married soon afterwards, all through the earnings of his frown.

"I have a lot for which to thank bricklaying," he said. "It gave me my opportunity to preach."

Together Again

WALTER JOHNSON, (right) with Clark Griffin, owner of the Washington Senators. Johnson has been hired as manager of the team in pitched to so many victories.

Bebe president of the Bank of Ipswich, South Dakota, as chairman of the public committee, said in part:

"State banks are not able to compete with national banks along specific lines of business. With the exception of about 15 reserve national banks, the required reserve of all national banks is but seven per cent of their demand and three per cent on their time deposits. Reserves these reserves, which are carried in the Federal Reserve bank, they are of necessity required to carry additional reserves to conduct their business."

Wide discrepancies between the reserve requirements of state and national banks, as revealed in a report made before the State Bank division meeting of the American Bankers' association convention here today, brought the recommendation that state banking laws be remedied so as to correct the situation.

"I'll tell the world"

In spite of all your enthusiasm over a new salad oil or shoe or radio battery, you cannot possibly pass on the good news to more than a few people. You can't really "tell the world."

The manufacturer himself is in the same fix. He can't tell the world. His salesmen can't. His dealers can't. And the world ought to be told. It wants to know. It wants to know what's new, what's not only good, but better than the best; or cheaper; or more durable; or just plain more fun.

Advertising "tells the world" today. Back of every advertisement is somebody, perhaps a whole group of somebodies, full of enthusiasm just as you are when you discover something that makes things easier or better for you. They are telling just as many people as they can reach in the world in person. But that is only a tiny fraction of those they speak to in advertising.

Advertisements are truly personal things to the people who write them. And they can be exceeding personal for you, too, for they mean better food, better clothing, increased health, a happier home, greater prosperity.

Read the advertisements—they tell you what you want to know

HOOVER WORK LAUDED BY CURRY

A strong statement praising the work of Herbert Hoover for his aid to California and particularly his assistance in behalf of the Sacramento harbor project, made Congressman Charles F. Curry of this district. Curry's statement is as follows:

"During the seven and one half years Herbert Hoover has secretly aided and consistently cooperated with the California delegation in congress in all matters affecting California.

"On two occasions, at my request, he visited and inspected the Sacramento-San Joaquin flood control project. He discussed, informed and urged our problems in conversations with the president and with cabinet members. He rendered me efficient and effective aid and it is very difficult to estimate the importance of Herbert Hoover's effort for us.

"Our flood control project was not the only legislation in which I had the effective cooperation and aid of Herbert Hoover. He has inspected the Mare Island navy yard, and knows of its value to the government.

"He realized the importance to navigation, commerce and national defense of the widening and deepening of the Pinole Shoals and Mare Island channels. He favored the 10-foot channel project in the Sacramento river to Sacramento, the Stockton deep water project and the San Pablo and Suisun bay channel. He appreciates the necessity for Richmond's inner harbor. As an engineer and economist he knows the value of these river and harbor improvements.

"Hoover's knowledge of our national and international problems and his analytical mind trained to grasp and solve intricate questions of government and economics will be of inestimable benefit when he is in the White House."

Insistent Driver Given Jail Term

Ten days in jail was the sentence levied yesterday by Police Judge C. A. Odell against Joseph Andrade of Richmond charged with driving an automobile despite the fact that he had been denied an operator's license.

Andrade formerly had a license and recently failed to pass tests. He was warned several times against driving the car, according to the police. Commitment has been issued.

Blake Lauds Merits Of New Sparton Radio

V. G. Blake, well known electrical and radio dealer, is enthusiastic about the merit of the Sparton Equasone radio, the agency for which has been awarded to him for Richmond. When interviewed about the new line, Blake had the following to say:

"It is not just another radio but a new musical instrument—new in conception—new in principle—new in fundamentals that are revolutionary and magnificent in power range and richness of musical expression. In the Equasone Sparton presents a new radio development of a genuinely sensational nature that will sharply affect the whole radio industry. Electrically the Equasone is characterized by new developments that bring within its range the wonderful range of radio programs broadcast on short wave lengths—programs hitherto denied to most radio listeners. It is distinguished by a pre-selector principle of tuning that gives marvelous stability and steadiness to the radio impulses before amplification. A new principle of amplification is employed, producing a smooth, new, a surging, a perfect fidelity of every instrument and voice that has astounded all listeners. Musically the Equasone elevates radio reception to magnificent new heights. The mighty climax of the full symphony orchestra, the deep resonance of the pipe organ, the captivating rhythm of dance music, the inspiring strains of the full military band. Choose your favorite type of program and your delight in the fidelity with which the new Sparton Equasone reproduces it for you will be boundless."

Kiwanians Hear Talk On 'Worry'

East Bay Water Sale Protested By Stock Holder

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—J. P. Beale, local attorney, today filed protest with the state railroad commission against the proposed sale of the East Bay Water company to the East Bay Municipal Utility district.

Beale declares he is owner of three shares of common stock of the company and that under terms of the proposed sale, holders of the common stock will receive $500 per share as their part of the sale. He declares that each common share warrants a value of $3000 in view of the earnings of the company over the past six years.

Beale declares that the purchase price, which is in excess of thirty millions of dollars, is $10,000,000 less than the actual value.

TARIFF POLICY OF G.O.P. WINS PRAISE

By KENNETH G. CRAWFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 24—

(U.P.)—Republican tariff policies are "necessary to maintain the country's present prosperity," Senator Charles Curtis, Herbert Hoover's running mate, told a large audience here tonight in his last eastern campaign speech.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith, who called the republican tariff a "cold blooded holdup" in 1922, and declared for labor protection only against "ravenous competition" in a recent speech at Louisville, Ky., cannot be expected to give American industries adequate protection from foreign competition, Curtis said.

Points to Payroll
He pointed to the large payroll figures in Rochester industries as proof of the efficiency of the republican protective tariff system.

Besides the audience which filled to overflowing the convention hall here, Curtis was heard by the radio audience of a local station.

He left on this private car immediately after the speech for Columbus, and then move on to Akron for a night speech Thursday. He will speak in several other Ohio cities on Friday.

Given Reception

Curtis received enthusiastic assurances of upstate New York support today, he was met here this morning by a large crowd and escorted to the head of an automobile procession almost two miles long, to his hotel where another large crowd was waiting to meet him.

After luncheon with republican workers, he was left to rest for his night appearance, he dined quietly with a few friends.

$6600 Awarded For School Site

MARTINEZ, Oct. 24.—In one of the most quickly concluded condemnation actions in the history of the local courts, R. L. Sanford, New York millionaire and landholder, was awarded judgment of $6600 by Superior Judge A. B. McKendzie today. Sanford sought judgment of $19,000 against the Liberty high school of Brentwood who was seeking to condemn eight acres of land for school purposes.

Sanford's witnesses placed the value of the land at $3000 an acre while the school district's witnesses declared that land was worth $700 an acre at the most.

The court awarded Sanford $700 an acre and $1000 severance damages.

Night Movies In Peru Fail

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 24.—Peruvians see their movies in the afternoon, and on week nights they are often no more than a dozen persons in a theatre.

Most of the picture houses seem to do a flourishing business, but it is at 6 p. m. The performance is called "Vernouth" because it is about the conventional time for cocktails. Morning shows are known as matinees.

Martinez High To Occupy Old School Home

MARTINEZ, Oct. 24.—Overcrowding of the Alhambra high school has led to the decision of the Martinez high school board to occupy a portion of the old Alhambra school building at Court and Susana streets. The old structure will be occupied as soon as repairs are given.

The state board of education has recommended that a junior high school be built at a cost of $200,000 but so far no steps have been taken in that direction.

The high school is accommodating 600 students, or 200 more than the school was built to provide for.

Stolen Richmond Auto Has Wild Career Of Theft

A coupe, stolen from J. H. Chandler of 521 Twelfth street, six weeks ago, has changed ownership so rapidly that the Richmond police checking on the theft were kept in a jump until it was finally located in the southland.

After being stolen, it was first sold to an auto wrecker in Oakland. A young couple bought the car from the wrecker and drove on their honeymoon to Los Angeles.

In that city it was again stolen and later redelivered for the honeymooners. Now the Richmond police are endeavoring to locate the newlywed, so that the car can be returned to its original owner.

POLICE IN WAR ON RECKLESS DRIVERS

Richmond police have declared a war against reckless driving on the part of some high school pupils as a result of an accident yesterday morning at the intersection of Twenty-third and Gaynor avenue.

Carl Johnson of 725 Sixteenth street sustained bruises on the knees and possible internal injuries when he was struck by a machine driven by Floyd Turpin, San Pablo dam road, according to the police report. Johnson received treatment at the Abbott Emergency hospital and was later removed to his home. His condition is not believed to be serious.

Turpin was pinned under arrest charged with reckless driving, driving on the wrong side of the street and having no brakes on his car. The accident occurred as Turpin was driving to school. According to witnesses, the car struck Johnson as he was crossing the intersection. George Jones, Bay View avenue, was a passenger in the car.

Auto Painting AT YOUR OWN PRICE

Bring your car to us and have it painted before the rainy season starts. Your car depreciates rapidly if allowed to rust. We are prepared to paint your car at any price you care to pay.

We do fender and body work. Your old fenders made to look like new no matter how badly they are bent. Motors rebuilt and overhauled.
